

Enbridge Fueling Futures

Energizing communities and improving quality of life

Part of being a good corporate citizen is being a good community partner and neighbor. Enbridge Fueling Futures is about energizing communities, through the volunteerism and the generosity of our employees, and through partnerships and sponsorships that strengthen the safety, vibrancy and sustainability of our communities.

It's more than just the energy we deliver.

It's the energy we put in.

It's the time we spend volunteering.

It's our commitment to sustainability and the environment.

It's the investments we make in our community to ensure the places we live are safe and vibrant.

It's because we see the potential in people and care about the world around us.

It's making tomorrow better than today.

Enbridge. Fueling Futures.

Employee volunteering and giving

It's more than just the energy we deliver – it's the energy we put in.

We support and encourage our employees to participate in their communities in ways that matter most to them. Employees can boost their giving by earning funds for organizations they volunteer with, donation matching, paid time off to volunteer, and grants to support projects in their community.

Apply for funding

Enbridge Fueling Futures is energizing communities through the support of programs that strengthen the safety, vibrancy and sustainability of our communities. We consider opportunities that align with one or more of our focus areas and are primarily within a 20 km (10 mile) radius of our pipeline right-of-way or near our operations.

We support:

- Community-based emergency services and organizations focused on safety planning and education.
- Organizations focused on education, mentorship, and building potential in youth.
- Social services agencies and organizations focused on empowering individuals to achieve their full potential.
- Environmental organizations with a focus on education and stewardship, habitat remediation and conservation, and energy transition.
- Indigenous communities and organizations focused on honoring Indigenous people and culture.
