Line 10
Making a Safe Pipeline Safer

Line 10 is a 143-kilometre (89-mile) export pipeline that carries oil from our Westover Terminal near Hamilton, Ontario to West Seneca, a suburb of Buffalo, New York.

Via a non-Enbridge connecting pipeline, the oil is destined for the United Refinery in Warren, Pennsylvania where it is transformed into gasoline, diesel and other essential petroleum products.

At Enbridge, our overarching goal is 100% safety. And safety begins with prevention. That’s why we’re planning a series of strategic investments to fully modernize the line over time, beginning with the Westover Segment Replacement Project.

Many Enbridge projects and operations—including Line 10—contribute significantly to Ontario’s economy, services and overall energy security. Some numbers from 2015:

- Capital spending: $1.3 billion
- Operating expenditures: $514.6 million
- Salary paid: $205.1 million
- Employees: 2,740

The taxes we pay in Ontario support schools, infrastructure development and other provincial/local government initiatives. Some more numbers:

- Property tax: $52.9 million
- Payroll, fuel and excise taxes: $10.3 million
- Community investment spending: $5.1 million
